Position Information

Job Title	Assistant Professor of Management
Position Number	997655
Department	Management & Marketing
Salary	Commensurate with experience and qualifications

Job Summary/Description Angelo State University invites applications for a tenure track assistant professor of management in the Management and Marketing Department in the newly named Norris-Vincent College of Business. This full-time, nine-month faculty position will start in Fall 2019. Effective teaching, service, and publication in peer-reviewed journals are required for tenure and promotion, consistent with the policies of the Norris-Vincent College of Business and Angelo State University. The successful candidate will teach courses in business analytics and statistics at the graduate and undergraduate levels in on-the-ground and on-line formats. The business programs offered by the Norris-Vincent College of Business are accredited by ACBSP; however, Angelo State University is a member of AACSB and is making good progress in attaining initial business accreditation by AACSB.

Typical Duties/Job Duties Teach graduate and undergraduate courses in business analytics and statistics, produce peer-reviewed intellectual contributions, especially journal articles, and participate in various service-related activities such as student advising, committee work, and engagement with the academic/business community.

Knowledge, Skills and Abilities Applicants should be dedicated to excellence in teaching and willing to deliver their courses in both traditional and online formats. Applicants should also be dedicated to helping ASU students succeed, particularly first-generation college students. Applicants should possess excellent written and oral communication skills, with strong organizational skills. Collegiality and the ability to collaborate with other business faculty in both research and service are also expected.

Minimum Qualifications PhD or DBA in management (or a closely related field) from an AACSB-accredited business program. ABD's will also be considered. Successful teaching experience at the college or university level.

Preferred Qualifications Record of scholarly publications in peer-reviewed journals. Industry experience is desirable.
