Type:	Full Time

Clarke University, located in Dubuque, IA, is a leading independent, coeducational Catholic university with programs in the liberal arts and the professions, where students become community- and globally-minded citizens. Offering traditional undergraduate majors and graduate programs, a plethora of co-curricular activities as well as study abroad options, Clarke is dedicated to the success of students, commitment to a set of core values, the pursuit of affordable excellence, and to providing a relevant, world-class education above all else. At Clarke University, everything we do is focused on making an impact on students so they can positively impact the world. For students, it means a place where more than facts are studied it means new ways of thinking are explored. For faculty and staff, it means more than just coming to work every day it means truly collaborating across the university to put student success first. It also means living and working in a thriving city named one of the "most livable" small cities in the country and one of "Best Green Places" in the country.

The Business, Communication, and Computer Science Department at Clarke University invites applications for a full-time, three-year appointment, with the possibility of moving to tenure-track, faculty position in Marketing to begin August 2019. This successful candidate will be expected to teach mostly undergraduate courses in a traditional face-to-face model. The position may include the possibility of teaching a small number of graduate courses each year in a hybrid and/or online format. Although Clarke is known as a University primarily focused on teaching, professional activities and service to the Department and University are expectations for full-time faculty. Candidates with a Ph.D. or DBA in the field of marketing are preferred; however, candidates with a Doctorate or a Master's degree that includes 18 graduate credits in marketing and relevant work experience considered. Previous teaching experience in higher education is desirable.

To apply for this position, please upload a current CV/resume, a letter of application, teaching philosophy, unofficial transcript and three reference letters online at <http://clarke.applicantpool.com/jobs>. All documents should be uploaded in the resume section of the application. Confidential letters of recommendation can be emailed to HRletters@clarke.edu. Applications will be reviewed effective immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Only completed applications with all information listed above will be reviewed. This position will begin August 2019.
