EMPORIA STATE UNIVERSITY

Emporia State University's School of Business invites applications for one tenure-track position in Marketing at the assistant or associate professor level. Candidates should be prepared to teach a variety of marketing courses and business statistics. Ability/willingness to teach online classes (including accelerated online classes) is required. Academic rank is commensurate with experience and qualifications. The position is within the AACSB-accredited School of Business, and begins August 2020.

Position Requirements:

Candidates must have completed or anticipate completing a doctorate on or before August 2021, from a professionally accredited business program or closely related field. Relevant teaching (including online instruction) or industry experience is a plus. The successful candidate will exhibit potential for scholarly research and excellent teaching in support of the School, and will be expected to make contributions in service to the School, the University, and the broader community.

Application:

To be considered for this position, electronically submit a letter of application addressing the position requirements; a curriculum vitae; and the names, e-mail addresses, and telephone numbers of at least three current references to Glenda Estes at gestes@emporia.edu. Please put "Marketing Search" in the subject line. For more information and questions, contact Dr. Charlie Jiang, Search Committee Chair, cjiang1@emporia.edu. To assure best consideration, applications must be received by March 6, 2020. Review of applications will begin immediately. Background check is required.
