Fayetteville State University College of Business and Economics is seeking an individual with a passion for teaching marketing to join a dynamic faculty team. This is a fixed term full time position for one year beginning Fall 2018. The person hired will be expected to teach undergraduate and graduate (MBA) courses in marketing and related courses in support of the Marketing concentration offered in the College of Business and Economics.

The successful candidate will be expected to:

- Engage in scholarship in the areas of curriculum/course development, active research, and quality service;
- Teach classes in marketing and related fields (depending on the qualifications of the person hired), with a 3/3 teaching load;
- Serve as academic advisor for undergraduate/graduate students, guiding their professional development as well as their academic progression;

- Assist with university and community service consistent with the mission of Fayetteville State University.

Fayetteville State University is a constituent institution of the University of North Carolina System. The School of Business and Economics (SBE) is accredited by AACSB International and the faculty is ranked among the top 100 business schools in the U.S. by SSRN. The School provides an attractive and collegial academic environment with a strong focus on teaching, service, and community relationships.

Minimum Education and Experience Requirements:

1. Doctoral degree in Marketing or related field from an AACSB accredited school; ABD's will be considered.
2. At least two to three years teaching experience and willingness to teach a variety of marketing courses such as marketing strategy, service marketing, and personal selling/sales are desired.
3. A record of relevant industry experience is highly desirable.
4. A record of published research in peer reviewed marketing journals is desirable.

Knowledge skills and abilities:

Teaching and instruction for groups of individuals; ability to communicate effectively, orally and in writing with peers and students; ability to work effectively and productively with others; time management skills, and ability to work with minimal supervision.

EEO Statement:

This position is subject to the successful completion of an employment background check. An employment background check includes a criminal background check, employment verification, reference checks, license verification (if applicable), academic verification and credit history check (if applicable).
