

HEC Paris is seeking high quality marketing scholars at all levels and will be interviewing at the 2018 AMA Summer Academic Conference. We are open to applications from all areas of marketing (quantitative, behavioral, managerial).

HEC Paris offers scholars a number of benefits. Our geographic proximity to, and extensive contacts with, the Paris business ecosystem stimulate research ideas and provide data access. Teaching loads are comparatively low and research support is substantial. Researchers at HEC have access to a state-of-the-art experimental lab located in the heart of Paris with a remarkably diverse online and lab subject pool.

HEC Paris has been consistently ranked among the top schools in Europe for the last decade. Such achievement and recognition derive from a diverse international faculty, dedication to and support of high-quality scholarship, and a wide range of high-quality educational programs. Our programs include (1) an MSc in Management within the French Grande Ecole system that is consistently ranked 1st in France by leading national publications and 2nd worldwide by the Financial Times, (2) a full-time MBA program ranked 21st worldwide by the Financial Times, (3) the Executive Education program is ranked 6th worldwide by the Financial Times, and (4) a rigorous Ph.D. program.

English is the primary language used on our campus, not only among faculty but also in the classroom, as all courses are offered in English.

More information on HEC Paris and the Marketing Department can be found following this link: <http://www.hec.edu/Faculty-Research/Marketing>

Interested scholars should send their application materials to the Department Administrative Assistant Francine Nnyina (nnyina@hec.fr).