The Indianapolis program is located on the campus of Indiana University Purdue University Indianapolis (IUPUI). IUPUI is Indiana's premier urban research university and a core campus of Indiana University. It is a highly regarded and successful 50 year old joint venture between Indiana University and Purdue University. It enrolls over 30,000 students, representing all 50 states and 142 foreign countries and has more than 2,500 faculty. In the most recent academic year, IUPUI received just over $428.9 million in research funding, and it set a record for fundraising at a public university in Indiana in 2013 by raising over $1.39 billion. IUPUI consists of eighteen degree granting schools, including the Kelley School of Business, Indiana University's Schools of Public and Environmental Affairs, McKinney School of Law, Liberal Arts, Lilly Family School of Philanthropy, Informatics, Medicine, Dentistry, Fairbanks School of Public Health, and Nursing and Purdue's Schools of Engineering and Technology, and Science.

The Kelley School of Business Indianapolis has over 1,800 students (1,200 undergraduate and 600 graduate) and over 60 full-time faculty. The Kelley School has a broad and excellent repertoire of in-residence (part-time in Indianapolis and full-time in Bloomington), online (Kelley Direct) and executive MBA programs. In 2013, the Kelley School welcomed an inaugural class into its newly launched Business of Medicine MBA program for practicing physicians. The Kelley School has consistently been ranked among the top 20 MBA programs in the world. The Evening MBA program in Indianapolis is ranked 11 for part-time MBA programs in the United States. Information regarding the Indianapolis programs can be found at: <http://kelley.iupui.edu/>. The Kelley School at Indianapolis provides an excellent research environment, with attractive teaching loads, generous research support, and a stimulating intellectual environment. The multi-disciplinary faculty are both very collegial and very productive.

As an institution located in a vibrant city atmosphere, the school provides excellent opportunities for a career and high quality of life. Indianapolis is the fifteenth largest city in the United States and the 34th largest metropolitan area in the United States, with a population of over two million. It is the home of the Indiana state government, is considered to be one of America's most livable urban centers, and is a burgeoning center for R&D. The campus' location is within blocks of what Forbes and Livability.com rank as one of the best downtowns in the United States and a major healthcare campus, which facilitates the advancement of research and teaching while presenting unique opportunities for internships, partnerships, and community engagement. Indianapolis boasts five professional sports teams, world-class museums including the world's largest children's museum, numerous companies and company headquarters including Eli Lilly and Company, Finish Line, Roche Diagnostics, and Rolls-Royce to name a few, and a rich cultural heritage.

Qualified applicants should electronically submit their cover letter of application, a curriculum vita, evidence of teaching ability, and a list of three references. Interested candidates should review the application requirements and submit their application at: <https://indiana.peopleadmin.com/postings/5236>. The Search Committee is chaired by Associate Professor Sasha Fedorikhin. The committee will begin reviewing applications immediately, however applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

Indiana University is an equal employment and Affirmative Action Employer and a provider of ADA services. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, ethnicity, color, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation or identity, marital status, national origin, disability status or protected veteran status.
