Prince Sultan University (PSU) is not only the pioneering private university in Saudi Arabia but as well is the first private university to have been awarded FULL ACCREDITATION by the NCAAA (National Commission for Assessment & Academic Accreditation). Further, it is the youngest university to have achieved such a milestone. PSU is on a fast-growing trajectory, expanding with new colleges and programs, and is situated in a well-equipped premises at the north-central Riyadh.

Prince Sultan University emphasizes on excellence in teaching, research and community services. Prior to starting with its undergraduate programs, students have to successfully complete a Preparatory Year Program (PYP). The PYP helps students to develop their English, Mathematics, Computer, and Physical Education/Health and Recreation skills to the standards required for studying its undergraduate degree program in English-medium. Among the different colleges in PSU, the College of Business Administration (CBA) offers the following undergraduate and graduate degree programs.

- B. Sc. in Accounting
- B. Sc. in Aviation Management
- B. Sc. in Finance
- B. Sc. in Marketing
- Master of Business Administration (MBA)

Consistent with current cultural norms in Saudi Arabia, male and female students, faculty and administrators are housed in separate campuses although enough of academic and administrative coordination is enabled between campuses to uniformly maintain the quality standards set for the programs.

The College of Business Administration is seeking applicants for Marketing Faculty positions for its up-coming Academic Year 2018/ 2019, which may start in the last week of August 2018.
