Job Description

Saint Louis University, a Catholic, Jesuit institution dedicated to student learning, research, and service invites applications for the position of a full-time, non-tenure-track Instructor of Marketing in the Department of Marketing at the John Cook School of Business to start in the Fall Semester of 2018.

The main responsibilities for the position will be teaching Marketing and Sports Business courses and providing oversight of student organizations such as the Marketing Club. Ideal candidates will also have professional or academic experience in the areas of digital marketing/social media and analytics. The individual must have an advanced degree (e.g., MBA, Masters in Marketing etc.) although a Ph.D. from an AACSB accredited university is preferred. Individuals need to demonstrate a commitment to quality teaching, and have the ability to work with both undergraduate and graduate students.

Interested candidates must apply online at <https://jobs.slu.edu>. Please include a cover letter, CV and reference list. Review of applications will begin on February 15, 2018 and continue until position is filled. For additional information about the position, contact Dr. Scott Thompson, Search Committee Chair at scott.a.thompson@slu.edu or at 314-977-3868. Successful applicants must show proof of their eligibility to legally work in the United States.
