

Tulane University
A. B. FREEMAN SCHOOL OF BUSINESS
Visiting Assistant Professor in Marketing

The A.B. Freeman School of Business at Tulane University is seeking qualified applicants for full-time visiting faculty positions in marketing for the 2016 – 2017 academic year.

Job Qualifications

This will be a one-year appointment starting July 1, 2016. The teaching load is expected to be two classes per semester. A Ph.D. in Marketing or a related discipline is required for this appointment. Candidates must demonstrate strong interest in research and be able to deliver quality teaching. The visiting position may possibly be extended and visitors may apply for future tenure-track positions in the marketing area, if they become available.

General Information. The marketing area at the Freeman School includes faculty in the areas of consumer behavior, judgment and decision making, sales management and quantitative methods. Information about the Freeman School and the faculty in its marketing area may be found at: <http://www.freeman.tulane.edu/>.

About the University and School

Tulane University enrolls approximately 13,500 students and is a privately funded, comprehensive research university located in New Orleans. New Orleans is a vibrant, multi-cultural community celebrated worldwide for its music, art, and food. The Freeman School of Business offers undergraduate programs, a full-time MBA program, other master's programs, and many executive-education programs. The Freeman School consistently ranks among the top business schools nationally and globally.

Application Procedure

Application materials should be submitted electronically at <http://apply.interfolio.com/34554> and should include a curriculum vitae and evidence of teaching effectiveness.

Screening of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the positions are filled. All positions are subject to final budgetary approval.

Tulane University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer.