The Marketing and Behavioural Science Division of the Sauder School of Business at the University of British Columbia invites applications for up to two tenure track faculty positions – Rank is open across Assistant, Associate, and Full professor. Applicants must have a record of research commensurate with the rank and a demonstrated successful experience in teaching. Senior-level candidates should have accomplished excellence in research in Marketing. Entry-level candidates should demonstrate an interest in and potential to conduct high-quality research in Marketing and be very close to completing or have completed a Ph.D. in Marketing, Psychology, or Economics. Applications are invited from highly qualified candidates with outstanding research or research potential in the areas of quantitative marketing modeling, applied econometrics, economics of industrial organization, game theory, consumer psychology, judgment and decision making, and/or experimental design. The successful candidate will be appointed at the rank appropriate to their qualification and experience.

Duties include developing and maintaining an active research program aimed at making a significant contribution to the profession, teaching in the undergraduate, MBA and Ph.D. programs, supervising Ph.D. students, as well as contributing to other teaching and administrative initiatives of the Marketing and Behavioural Science Division and the Sauder School of Business. Candidates at the senior level will be expected to provide leadership that will enhance the reputation of the Marketing and Behavioural Science Division and the School. Teaching and service requirements are similar to other research-intensive universities.

Subject to budgetary approval, the positions start July 1, 2015. UBC hires on the basis of merit and is committed to employment equity. We encourage all qualified persons to apply. We especially welcome applications from members of visible minority groups, women, Aboriginal persons, persons with disabilities, persons of minority sexual orientations and gender identities, and others with the skills and knowledge to engage productively with diverse communities. However, Canadians and permanent residents of Canada will be given priority. Information regarding hiring is available on our website at: http://www.sauder.ubc.ca/Faculty/People/Faculty\_Openings

A completed application will include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research papers (i.e., one or two recent published research papers or current working papers), a teaching dossier or record of teaching effectiveness, if applicable, and four reference letters. Applications should be sent to: Kate White, Chair, Marketing and Behavioural Science Division via e-mail to Katherine.White@sauder.ubc.ca. Review of applications will begin on July 5, 2014 and continue until the position is filled.
