Gies College of Business

Department of Business Administration

Tenure-Track Faculty Position in Marketing

Applications are invited from qualified individuals for multiple regular, full-time, tenure-track positions in Marketing beginning August 16, 2019, or negotiable after the closing date. Candidates should expect to have completed their doctoral degree by Fall 2019. We seek candidates who have an active program of research and demonstrated teaching excellence in marketing, with preference to those with a focus on marketing strategy, marketing modeling, and quantitative marketing.

Chosen candidates will be expected to conduct research, teach, and perform service in this area. Salary is competitive and commensurate with rank and experience.

The University of Illinois offers an outstanding tradition of scholarship and a supportive environment for faculty development and excellence. The Gies College of Business at Illinois received a monumental $150 million investment from U of I alumnus, Larry and Beth Gies. This gift ranks amongst the largest to any business school in U.S. history. This investment will grow and strengthen our investment in students, faculty and world-class programs and will solidify our distinction as a global innovator in business.

The Gies College of Business offers the Ph.D., MBA, iMBA, and specialized Masters' programs, as well as undergraduate programs. The Marketing area is an interdisciplinary group of faculty whose research and teaching encompasses state-of-the-art marketing topics.

As part of the larger Department of Business Administration, with leading scholars in International Business, Information Systems, Management, and Marketing among other related fields, we offer a uniquely hospitable environment for interdisciplinary work, as well as the opportunity to work with talented doctoral students. We seek like-minded individuals who are committed to engaged scholarship of the highest caliber. Additional information about the Department, our programs and faculty may be found at <https://business.illinois.edu/ba/>.

In order to ensure full consideration, applications must be received by April 1, 2019. Applications received by April 1, 2019, will be given first consideration. Interviews may take place and offers may be made before the closing date, but all applications received by the closing date will receive full consideration for an open position. Review of applications will continue until suitable candidates are identified. Applications and supplemental materials must be submitted online at <http://go.illinois.edu/BUSMarketing>. Application materials must include a letter of intent, curriculum vitae, a sample publication and/or working paper, and evidence of past teaching success. Doctoral candidates must also send three letters of recommendation; all other applicants must submit names and contact information of at least three professional references. For further information regarding application procedures, please email business-bahr@business.illinois.edu or call Rebecca Heid at (217) 333-9396.

The University of Illinois conducts criminal background checks and other required pre-employment assessments on all job candidates upon acceptance of a contingent offer.

The University of Illinois is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer. Minorities, women, veterans and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply. For more information, visit <http://go.illinois.edu/EEO>. To learn more about the University's commitment to diversity, please visit <http://www.inclusiveillinois.illinois.edu>.
