

Assistant Professor of Marketing (Tenure-Track)

Institution:	Washington College
Location:	Chestertown, MD
Category:	Faculty - Business - Marketing and Sales
Posted:	01/06/2020
Type:	Full-Time

The Washington College Department of Business Management seeks candidates for a full-time tenure-track teaching position in Marketing starting in August 2020. The College will hire at the assistant-professor level. Candidates should have a Ph.D. or D.B.A. in hand at the start of employment; ABD will be considered. Successful candidates will possess a passion for teaching undergraduate students in a liberal-arts environment, and enjoy fostering critical thinking, effective communication, and moral courage in preparing students for challenging careers or graduate school programs. This is an opportunity for candidates who would thrive in a dynamic and collegial environment that values research, encourages interdisciplinary efforts within and beyond the department, and supports substantial student engagement beyond the classroom. The teaching load is three courses per semester covering Principles of Marketing and other marketing courses related to the candidate's area of interest, plus compensated supervision of senior theses. The successful candidate will be expected to contribute to the College's first-year seminar program on a rotating basis.

Washington College is a private, selective, independent liberal-arts college located in historic Chestertown on Maryland's Eastern Shore, within easy driving distance to Washington, D.C., Baltimore, and Philadelphia. Founded in 1782 under the patronage of George Washington, this tenth-oldest college in the country celebrates a rich heritage of producing citizen-leaders who have made significant impacts in their chosen endeavors.
